

Matthew Mendoza

Associate

Before attending law school, Matthew (Matt) lived in Dubai, UAE, where he worked for Emirates Airlines. Working in an international setting with people from across the globe reinforced the importance of being adaptable and exceeding client expectations. He attended The Ohio State University Moritz College of Law and returned to his native Sacramento to consult on large infrastructure contracts for the State of California. As a member of Porter Scott's public entity group, he now uses his diverse skill set to deliver his clients results.

When he is not working for his clients, you can find Matt growing vegetables in his backyard and playing pool with his friends and family.
